

30. The fall protection assembly of claim 27, further wherein:

the first portion of the first connector being selectively slidably coupled to the first elongated member and the second portion of the first connector being slidably coupled to the second elongated member; and the second portion of the second connector being slidably coupled to the second elongated member.

* * * * *